Explanatory Notes on Main Statistical Indicators

Regional Gross Domestic Product

is the final products at market prices produced by all resident units in a region during a certain period of time. GDP refers to the total value of all products and services produced by all resident units during a certain period of time minus total value of inputs of non-fixed-assets products and services or the summation of the value added of all resident units.